Pyramid

All of us have at least some leadership characteristics already. In the pyramid below, you have the chance to brag a little about yourself! In each space, list a leadership trait you believe you already possess. Put those you feel need development at/near the bottom of the pyramid. The traits about which you feel best should go at/near the top. Then answer the questions that follow on separate paper.

- 1) What are some leadership characteristics that were mentioned today that you believe you may never be able to develop (if any)? Why?
- 2) If 'none' was your answer to question #1, then the development of which leadership trait do you think will be most difficult for you? Why?
- 3) Why would/should anyone choose to follow you as a leader? What do you offer that others don't?
