

2003-2004 Film, Video and Animation Festival

Andy Colburn & Mitch Gonzalez – Theater Introduction (3d Animation). This 3D version of a movie theater forms the introduction to the festival. (:30)

Zach Schneider – Drinking & Driving (Public Service Announcement). This PSA, created for multimedia class, shows the dangers of drinking and driving. (:30)

Jason Meinke – Kiss the Girl & Nike Invisibles (3d Animations). Two animations created in 3D Studio Max...one is of fish swimming through some scenes, and the other is a short commercial for Nike. (1:30)

Trent Hamilton & Adam Preston – The End (Music Video). Trent edited the video (original footage, animations, and scenes from Psycho) and Adam wrote, produced and performed the music for this creative video. (3:10)

Cory Zechmann – Lucid Dreams (3d Animation). A flythrough scene that soars through space and lands on an unidentified planet. (1:00)

Chieu Do – Footprints (Video Poetry). This is a video that was inspired by a poem I had in my house. I did my best to make the video correspond to the lyrics. (3:00)

Adam Nelson – Matrix 3D (Animation). Observe Neo as he soars through Mega City on his quest to destroy the Matrix through 3d animation. (1:00)

Peter Benson & William Meiklejohn – Mission:Matrix (Experimental Film). An oober excellent look at Stratego, Matrix style. (4:00)

Taylor Shonka – Bowling 3D (Animation). This is a project I created using Autodesk Viz. I made a bowling alley with animation and then used Adobe Premiere to add video clips and make a quick movie. (1:20)

Lucas Shanks & Mike Zanatta – Minnesota Wild Sports Journalism (News Story). This story, of a trip the Xcel Energy Center to watch a Minnesota Wild practice, took first place at a MHSPA contest in high school journalism. (3:00)

Amanda Williams – Support for the Arts (Public Service Announcement). This video is about showing people that art is not only about paintings and pictures, but performing and music can be art as well. You might as well support the arts, because it's everywhere. (:30)

Tyler Aymond & Mitch Dreieir – 2003-2004 Skiing Season (Highlight Tape). A Highlight of Tyler's freestyle skiing season at Highland Hills, a segment from his sponsorship video. (2:30)

David Krueger – Car (3d Animation). A 3d model of a car constructed piece by piece. (:45)

Alex Voshell – Amadeus (Music Video). This is an artistic interpretation of Falco's classic "Rock Me Amadeus". (4:00)

Mitch Gonzalez – On a Mission (Highlight Tape). This video highlights the Eastview football team against Lakeville in a hard fought battle that is very meaningful for the entire 2003 football team. (6:30)

Peter Hovland – Peter's Pop Factory (Animation). This is a short animation using Autodesk Viz and Adobe Premiere giving a tour of a factory. (1:30)

Kane Bechstein – I Died a Death (Video Poetry). This is a project I did in multimedia class where we interpreted a poem and made a visual presentation of what we felt it represented. (3:30)

The Entire 4cast Class – A Daily Show (Documentary). This segment from a longer documentary highlights the teamwork necessary to produce a daily announcements show. (5:00)

Brian Storm – Star Trek 3d (Animaiton). This video is a short glimpse into the Star Trek universe using Autodesk Viz to create an epic battle between two ships. (2:20)

David Bringle – The Crestfallen (Experimental Film). This video is a combination of angles and filters telling a story of a man's lost parts trying to find each other. (6:00)

Jake Kindberg – Premature (Short Film). A young, teenage girl faces hardship when she becomes pregnant by an older guy. (9:00)

Mr. Krebs and Mr. Fornicola

The Eastview Film, Video and Animation Festival is designed to showcase the video production talents of Eastview students. A great majority of these videos were produced as assignments in EVHS classes such as broadcast journalism, The 4cast, The Flash, multimedia, and advanced multimedia, as well as the video production career development class at RHS. In addition, students have produced videos as school projects for other classes or for their personal enjoyment.

This festival showcases works from students in the categories of music video, documentary, public service announcement, highlight video, video poetry, animation, experimental film, news story, and short film. We hope you enjoy all of these fine student works!
