

Sent: Monday, February 27, 2006 4:04 PM
To: ted.siefkes@district196.org
Subject: Thank you!!

Hello! Sorry to bother you, but I just went down memory lane, looking at some Washington DC pictures recently. I went to DC in Fall 2004, and it doesn't seem so long ago! I remember packing the nights before, and how much fun the trip was, how few of my pictures developed...all that jazz. I just wanted to thank you guys for making the trip so much fun, it really is going to be something I'll remember forever. I might never visit the capitol again, but I'll have with me the memories of that trip forever. Jake Astle singing karaoke, Percy the bus driver...and all the fun of visiting so many monuments. I always go back to the DC information site, and I'm constantly surprised our pictures are still there! Recently, my neighbor Aj was doing fundraisers to help collect money for the trip. And, of course, my sister Krista and Joe will be going on the trip too, eventually. My friends and I had a blast, and I know everybody else did too. Anyways, I just wanted to thank you for providing us with this amazing trip, to see our nation's capital, a trip I may never have a chance to make again, and making it so much fun. I know my sister and brother will have a good time too. Thanks so much!!

~ Kelsey